

The new plants produced by cuttings are genetically to the parent cells.