

Which are examples of non-living factors in an environment?