

Measures that increase the chances of a woman becoming pregnant are called treatments.