

Bacteria reproduce by splitting in two in a process known as fission.