

Animals can be trained using both classical and operant conditioning.

