

A person who is a carrier of a genetic disease has no symptoms of the disease.