

In the production of yoghurt, bacteria ferment the milk sugar called producing lactic acid.