

A couple wish to have a child. The woman's oviducts are blocked, although she does produce eggs. Which of these options would be recommended?