

An is all the living organisms in an area plus all of the non-living factors.