These two flasks were filled with sterile nutrient broth and left open. Why did the broth in the flask on the right stay fresh?

